Executive overview

Partial coverage

Instagram (instagram.com) holds an IISRI external rating of CCC with a Medium risk band on the 2 October 2026 assessment. Findings span privacy policy issues, vulnerabilities, nine data leak events, credential exposure, fourth-party vendors and quantum key exchange; no certificate was detected.

Grade, risk band, aspect scores and benchmark are printed; net score, pool, score context and assessment id are not.

Medium risk band

Main information security and/or privacy controls are unlikely to provide reasonable assurance that security and/or privacy risks are being managed and objectives are met. Major work on information security and/or privacy is highly recommended.

Wording as printed in the source; it differs from the CCC definition in Appendix B and is held for review.

Active issues

Issue	Type	What was found
Issue 1	Privacy	Broad data collection across apps and off-platform activity. Meta collects what you do on its products, who you connect with, device and browser details, and information from partners about your activity on other websites, apps, and games. This means your behavior outside Meta services can still feed into your profile.
Issue 2	Security	Cross-product and cross-device tracking. Information is combined across Facebook, Instagram, Messenger, Meta Quest, AI at Meta, and other Meta Companies including WhatsApp, and across your devices. Your activity in one place can shape your experience and ads everywhere else.
Issue 3	Privacy	Heavy use of data for personalization and advertising. Your data is used to personalize feeds, recommendations, AI responses, and ads, including on third-party apps through Meta Audience Network. Even if you are not logged in or do not have an account, some information may still be used to personalize ads.

Rows 4–12 of 12

Issue	Type	What was found
Issue 4	Privacy	AI features process your content and interactions. Chats, messages, and interactions with AI at Meta features, along with related metadata, are collected and used to develop and improve AI, including for third parties. Your conversations and content may be reviewed or analyzed.
Issue 5	Privacy	Human review of your information. Meta states that in some cases it uses manual (human) review to access and review your information, including for safety, integrity, and product improvement purposes. This means automated processing is not the only way your data is handled.
Issue 6	Privacy	Vague retention periods. Meta keeps information "as long as needed" and decides retention case-by-case, sometimes extending it for legal, safety, or investigative reasons. This makes it hard to know how long your data actually stays on their systems.
Issue 7	Privacy	Global data transfers. Because Meta operates worldwide, your information is transferred, stored, and processed across borders, including to the United States. The policy says they follow international regulations, but the practical level of protection in each country may vary.
Issue 8	Security	Sharing with many third parties. Information is shared with advertisers, partners, vendors, service providers, researchers, measurement and marketing vendors, and integrated partners. While Meta says it does not sell your information, the range of sharing is still very broad.
Issue 9	Privacy	Legal requests and law enforcement access. Meta may access, preserve, use, and share your information in response to legal requests such as warrants, court orders, or subpoenas, and to comply with applicable law or prevent harm. The categories of data shared depend on the circumstances and can be broad.
Issue 10	Privacy	Sensitive information with special protections. The policy mentions processing sensitive data such as religious views, sexual orientation, political views, health, racial or ethnic origin, philosophical beliefs, or trade union membership when you provide it or give explicit consent. Once shared, this data can be used for personalization, analytics, and product improvement.
Issue 11	Privacy	Limited clarity on anonymized and de-identified data. Meta says it uses de-identified, aggregated, or anonymized information without trying to re-identify individuals. However, the policy does not fully explain how anonymization is verified or how long such data is kept.
Issue 12	Privacy	Changes to the policy with continued use as acceptance. Meta will notify you before material changes, but continuing to use the products after reviewing the revised policy generally means you accept it. Users who do not actively review updates may unknowingly agree to new data practices.

Finding details

Critical 0 · High 2 · Medium 3 · Low 9

#	Severity	Finding	Rationale and affected domains
1		cert_expirationStatus Breach likelihood 5% ID vuln-01	A high-severity certificate expiration is a critical availability and trust issue that can lead to service disruption and man-in-the-middle attacks if expired certificates are not replaced. However, without active exploitation or misconfiguration enabling interception, the direct path to a full system breach is limited. The primary risk is denial of service and degraded security posture, not an immediate data compromise. Affected domains (4) instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · m.instagram.com · api.instagram.com · admin.instagram.com
2		cert_notAfter Breach likelihood 10% ID vuln-02	An expired certificate (HIGH severity) disrupts service availability and trust, creating an immediate denial-of-service condition for dependent applications. While it does not directly enable a system breach like a code execution flaw, it can be a critical component failure in a chain of events. The likelihood of a breach stemming solely from this is low, but the high severity reflects the operational impact and potential for secondary exploitation if combined with other weaknesses. Affected domains (4) instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · m.instagram.com · api.instagram.com · admin.instagram.com
3		cipherlist_3DES_IDEA Breach likelihood 5% ID vuln-03	The use of deprecated ciphers like 3DES and IDEA is a known weakness that degrades overall cryptographic security. While not an immediate, direct path to a breach, it lowers the security posture and could be leveraged as part of a broader attack chain, especially if combined with other vulnerabilities. The risk is present but not imminent without active exploitation or additional context. Affected domains (2) instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · api.instagram.com
4		security_headers Breach likelihood 5% ID vuln-04	Missing or misconfigured security headers (e.g., CSP, HSTS) do not directly cause a breach but increase the risk of client-side attacks like clickjacking or XSS. Exploitation requires user interaction and a separate vulnerability to be present. The security_headers (cont.)	likelihood of a direct breach from this alone is low, but it meaningfully elevates overall attack surface. Affected domains (3) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · m.instagram.com · admin.instagram.com`

5		`BEAST_CBC_TLS1` Breach likelihood 5% ID vuln-05	BEAST is a known cryptographic attack against CBC mode in TLS 1.0 and earlier. While a MEDIUM severity finding, modern clients and servers have implemented mitigations, and TLS 1.0 is largely deprecated. Direct exploitation requires a man-in-the-middle position and specific conditions, making a full breach unlikely in a generic context without confirmed vulnerable configurations or active adversarial presence. Affected domains (2) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · api.instagram.com`
6		`TLS1` Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-06	TLS 1.0 is a deprecated protocol with known cryptographic weaknesses (e.g., BEAST). While it increases the risk of information disclosure if an attacker is in a position to perform a man-in-the-middle attack, exploitation requires a specific, active adversary on the network path. It is not a direct, remotely exploitable vulnerability leading to system compromise. The likelihood of this single finding directly causing a breach is very low. Affected domains (2) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · api.instagram.com`
7		`TLS1_1` Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-07	TLS 1.1 is a deprecated protocol with known cryptographic weaknesses, but exploitation requires a man-in-the-middle position and is not directly actionable for initial access. Modern clients and servers typically negotiate stronger protocols, making successful exploitation of this specific finding for a full breach highly unlikely in a generic context. Affected domains (2) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · api.instagram.com`
8		`cipherlist_AVERAGE` Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-08	A LOW severity cipher list misconfiguration, while a technical weakness, does not directly enable a breach. It typically requires an attacker to already be in a privileged position to exploit (e.g., man-in-the-middle). Without active exploitation or additional critical flaws, the direct likelihood of a breach is minimal. Affected domains (4) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · m.instagram.com · api.instagram.com · admin.instagram.com`
9		`TLS_session_ticket` Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-09	TLS session ticket vulnerabilities (LOW severity) typically involve theoretical weaknesses like ticket predictability or lack of perfect forward secrecy. They require a man-in-the-middle position and specific conditions to exploit, are not commonly

		TLS_session_ticket (cont.)	targeted, and do not directly lead to a breach without other significant flaws or attacker access. Affected domains (2) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · admin.instagram.com`
10		`OCSP_stapling` Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-10	OCSP stapling is a performance and privacy enhancement, not a vulnerability. A misconfiguration preventing its use does not create an exploitable security flaw; it merely reverts to standard certificate revocation checking. The 'LOW' severity indicates negligible direct risk to confidentiality or integrity. A breach directly resulting from this finding is highly improbable. Affected domains (4) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · m.instagram.com · api.instagram.com · admin.instagram.com`
11		`SWEET32` Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-11	SWEET32 is a cryptographic vulnerability in legacy 64-bit block ciphers like 3DES and Blowfish. While a theoretical attack exists, it requires capturing massive amounts of encrypted data (hundreds of gigabytes) from a single session, which is an unrealistic scenario for most modern, generic applications. Modern systems and protocols have largely deprecated or mitigated these weak ciphers. The LOW severity reflects the impractical attack requirements and widespread mitigations, making direct breach from this flaw highly unlikely. Affected domains (2) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174 · api.instagram.com`

#	Severity	Finding	Rationale and affected domains
12		BEAST Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-12	BEAST is a legacy client-side attack against TLS 1.0 and early implementations of TLS 1.1. Modern browsers and servers have implemented effective mitigations for over a decade. The vulnerability requires a man-in-the-middle position and significant effort to exploit, and TLS 1.0/1.1 are widely deprecated and disabled. Therefore, the realistic likelihood of this directly leading to a breach is negligible. Affected domains (2) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174` · `api.instagram.com`
13		LUCKY13 Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-13	LUCKY13 is a low-severity cryptographic timing side-channel attack against TLS/SSL implementations. It requires a specific, controlled environment to exploit, is difficult to execute reliably over a network, and modern systems have mitigations. The direct breach likelihood from this finding alone is negligible. Affected domains (4) `instagram.com / 157.240.8.174` · `m.instagram.com` · `api.instagram.com` · `admin.instagram.com`
14		HSTS Breach likelihood 1% ID vuln-14	HSTS is a security enhancement, not a vulnerability. Its absence or misconfiguration (LOW severity) does not directly enable a breach. It only protects against specific, targeted SSL/TLS downgrade attacks, which are not common initial intrusion vectors. The likelihood of a breach stemming solely from this finding is negligible. Affected domains (2) `m.instagram.com` · `admin.instagram.com`

No additional subdomains or externally exposed assets were identified during this assessment.

Email and DNS security controls

Control	Result	What it does and what was recorded
DKIM	✕ Not enabled	Signs outgoing mail so receivers can verify its origin and integrity. Key strength: Not available (not provided in the assessment data) Source: "DKIM: Not Enabled – supports email integrity and sender authenticity."
DMARC	✓ Enabled	Sets how receivers treat mail failing SPF or DKIM; reports spoofing. Policy mode (p=): Not available (left blank in the assessment data) Verify the published DMARC policy (p=) before acting on priority action 14. Source: "DMARC: Enabled (mode) – visibility into spoofing attempts is present."
DNSSEC	✕ Missing or invalid	Authenticates DNS responses and protects against DNS cache poisoning. Source: "DNSSEC: Missing / Invalid – authenticates DNS responses and protects against DNS cache poisoning."
SPF	⊖ Not reported	Lists the servers allowed to send mail for the domain. No result for this control in the assessment data; not a pass.

It is recommended to progressively enforce DMARC policies to reduce phishing and impersonation risks. DKIM RSA keys must be at least 2048 bits; 1024-bit keys are flagged as a LOW finding. DNSSEC should be enabled (DS record + RRSIG + valid chain of trust) to prevent DNS spoofing.

Recommended mitigation measures

Attention: Historical credential exposures were identified. Password resets and MFA enforcement are recommended.

- Force password resets for all affected accounts
- Enable multi-factor authentication across all user access points
- Review password hygiene and access policies
- Monitor authentication logs for anomalous activity
- 1,872 rows record a service/URL (origin) with the credential, a pattern typical of infostealer logs: revoke active sessions and tokens for the affected accounts and notify the affected users.
- Rows on other email domains are not accounts the organisation manages; tell the affected users rather than resetting them centrally.

Data sovereignty

Where this supplier says disputes and legal obligations are handled

Findings	Governing law could not be identified.

Governing law / courts found	Not identified in published policies
Accepted jurisdictions	Australia
Against the preference	Cannot be compared
Source verdict	“does not match the jurisdictions your organisation accepts (Australia)”

No governing-law or court clause could be matched in the published policies, so legal location cannot be compared with the preference set by the report owner/requestor (Australia). Treat it as unresolved until confirmed.

Policy text: “No governing law, jurisdiction, arbitration clause, or competent courts identified in the provided policy text. The policy references 'applicable law' and 'Data Protection Authorities' generally, but does not specify a governing law or exclusive jurisdiction.”

Source text: “We could not identify a governing-law or court clause in the supplier's published policies, and that does not match the jurisdictions your organisation accepts (Australia). Until that is clear, treat legal location as unresolved.” Review note: the source prints a verdict, but no governing-law clause was identified, so this report reads the comparison as “Cannot be compared” until the clause is confirmed.

How it becomes assessed

Run the AI risk and governance module for this organisation. It rates the areas listed below; the observations shown here are then replaced by assessed results.

Observations recorded for context

Recorded during data collection. These observations are not an assessment result: they are not rated, not scored and not counted in the IISRI rating.

What we observed about this organisation's use of artificial intelligence

It is unlikely this organisation uses AI in a material way. That view is based on what is publicly visible on instagram.com. They do not appear to fall into an EU Annex III high-risk sector. Their privacy policy does not clearly explain AI use to the people whose data may be involved.

Quantum security

Assesses exposure to quantum computing threats by analyzing cryptographic primitives found in TLS/SSL configurations and SSH endpoints. Includes detection of post-quantum cryptography (PQC) algorithms that may already provide protection.

Findings

Across 4 scopes the scan reported 8 high-risk and 28 low-risk findings (apex aggregate). High risk comes from ECDHE and RSA key exchange; ML-KEM was detected on all 4 scopes. Supporting PQC does not prove every connection uses it.

High, Moderate and Low are the source headline. They equal the number of scope × algorithm rows in the scope breakdown at each level (36 rows, each counted once at its highest level; every row is listed in Appendix D.4). The apex aggregate row for instagram.com gives the same High, Moderate and Low findings. The subdomain rows sum to High 6 · Moderate 0 · Low 21; they are not added to the headline.

Source notice: Quantum Vulnerability is currently in beta. You may encounter incomplete data or ongoing changes as we refine the experience.

Each algorithm counts findings across all scanned scopes. High risk marks key exchange that a quantum computer could break; a PQC alternative is the replacement the source names.

Scope and limitations

We cannot guarantee that a domain or organization is fully quantum-safe based on the results of this assessment because:

- Post-quantum cryptography is an evolving field. Cryptographic standards, implementations, and the understanding of quantum computing capabilities continue to develop. Future advances may affect the security of algorithms considered secure today.
- This is a non-invasive, external assessment. Unless an internal CyberRank agent is deployed, the scan evaluates only externally observable services and configurations. Internal systems, private networks, and services that are not externally accessible are outside the scope of this assessment.

Post-quantum readiness

A domain can only be considered fully post-quantum ready if it:

- Supports post-quantum cryptographic (PQC) algorithms for secure connections; and
- Disables legacy TLS versions (TLS 1.0, TLS 1.1, and TLS 1.2).

Allowing legacy TLS versions enables clients to establish connections using classical cryptographic algorithms. If an attacker can force or negotiate the use of an older protocol version (a protocol downgrade), the connection may lose the protections provided by post-quantum cryptography.

C · APPENDICES AND REFERENCES

Methodology and supply-chain aggregation

One rating for every vendor. One risk number for your whole supply chain.

CYBERRANK turns externally observable evidence about an organisation into a single severity rating, a normalised risk score, and a combined risk that includes the vendors — and the vendors' vendors — behind it.

The problem

Attackers reach organisations through their suppliers. Existing tools don't add up: CVSS scores single technical flaws, questionnaires rely on self-reporting, and privacy, AI and quantum exposures have no common scale at all.

The approach

An ISO 31000-aligned model with four explicit steps, from observed weaknesses to supply-chain risk. Every step is reproducible and every number is comparable across organisations and portfolios.

The regulatory fit

Built for the obligations in DORA, NIS2, the GDPR and the AI Act, and aligned with ISO/IEC 27001, 27701 and 42001, NIST SP 800-53 and 800-161, PCI DSS and the NIST CSF.

How a rating becomes a risk four steps, one pipeline

Observe

Continuous external signals are collected without touching the organisation's systems.

Vulnerabilities · Privacy compliance · Credential & data leaks · Data sovereignty · Data residency · Terms of use · AI · Quantum

Certified controls earn credits: ISO 27001, ISO 27701, SOC 2, ISAE 3402, PCI DSS. Optional questionnaires add a second, bounded evidence channel.

Rate

Every organisation starts with a full point budget, split evenly between a security bucket and a privacy bucket. Weaknesses deduct capped demerits; certifications add capped credits.

The net score maps to the IISRI rating, AAA to D. The rating reflects the organisation's own posture only — a vendor's weakness never changes it.

Score the risk

Likelihood = threat probability × weakness. Threat probability comes from sector, size and internet exposure; weakness comes from the rating. Impact is one of four tiers you assign: Critical, High, Medium or Low.

Risk = normalised likelihood × impact, reported as a score and a band: Low, Medium, High or Critical.

Combine

Vendors and sub-vendors are discovered automatically and rated with the same pipeline. Their risks are folded into yours, attenuated by distance in the chain.

The combined risk shows the cascading exposure that your own rating cannot see.

The IISRI rating scale Ten grades. Higher grades mean lower weakness values and therefore lower likelihood.

D	C	CC	CCC	B	BB	BBB	A	AA	AAA
Very poor	Poor	Very insufficient	Insufficient	Moderate	Sufficient	Satisfactory	Good	Very good	Excellent

Controls provide no assurance — All controls adequate, appropriate and effective

General methodology, the same in every report; figures on the supply-chain page are illustrative and are not results for Instagram.

Your rating describes you. Your combined risk describes your supply chain.

Every vendor and sub-vendor is rated with the same pipeline as you are. A weak vendor never lowers your own rating — that stays attributable to your posture. But an exploited vendor can open an attack path into your systems, so the same weakness does enter your combined risk, attenuated by how far away it sits in the chain.

The result is two complementary numbers. Read together, they show that an excellent rating does not certify a healthy supply chain.

Individual risk

Low

Your own posture, as if you had no suppliers. Suitable for external presentation.

Combined risk

Medium

You plus every vendor and sub-vendor. The number to manage against.

Combined risk — the "at least one adverse event" composition, applied recursively through the chain

Every supplier's effective risk R(s) already contains its own suppliers, so the chain unrolls from the outermost leaves inward. Each factor is one party's chance of not causing an incident; one minus the product is the chance that something, somewhere in the chain, goes wrong.

o_N — A node's own individual risk score — from its rating, threat probability and impact tier.

$d(s)$ — Hops from the centre: d(s) = d(N) + 1. Each supplier sits one step further out and is damped more.

$R(A)$ — Your combined risk: the formula evaluated at your own organisation A, the centre of the graph (d = 0).

$R(s)$ — A supplier's effective risk, computed the same way from its own suppliers. A leaf with no suppliers has R = o_N.

f — The transmission fraction you configure. A larger f trusts distance more and shrinks every supplier's contribution.

Impact tiers you assign to each vendor

Critical	Failure immediately stops a critical service or causes a serious regulatory breach. DORA: critical.
High	Essential, but a temporary loss can be bridged with workarounds. DORA: important.
Medium	Supports normal operations; disruption means inconvenience. The default tier at onboarding.
Low	Minimal or no operational impact.

Why you can rely on it

- Standards-grounded — ISO 31000, ISO/IEC 27001, 27701 and 42001, NIST SP 800-30 and 800-53, DORA and NIS2.
- Certified operator — an independently audited ISO/IEC 27001 management system; ISO/IEC 42001 certification in progress.
- Human in the loop — users report inaccuracies and appeal findings; feedback tunes detection confidence over time.
- Honest about limits — vendor compromises are treated as independent, some detections are heuristic, and the continuous score is primary over the qualitative heat map.

An organisation's own excellent rating does not certify its supply chain. Only the combined risk does.

The dashboard shows, for you and every (sub-)vendor, six domains — Security, Privacy, Data leaks, Controls, AI, Quantum — plus the IISRI rating, the individual risk and the combined risk.

D.4 Quantum scope breakdown

High 8 Moderate 0 Low 28

D.4.1 lists one row per scope with its post-quantum (PQC) status, ordered by High, then Moderate, then Low findings. The apex aggregate (the source headline scope) comes first; subdomain rows are not added to it. Showing 4 of 4 scopes. D.4.2 lists every scope × algorithm row (36 of 36).

Unit: scopes (D.4.1) and scope × algorithm rows (D.4.2); counts are findings. Source: all rows “standard scan”. State: Findings. Snapshot 02 Oct 2026.
